Double Vision

Every year many churches repeat the annual Advent battle. On one side of the battle line is a liturgist (typically the pastor, but not infrequently the music minister). On the other side is pretty much everyone else. Where the Advent battle rages, the points in contention are things like: will there be Christmas carols sung during Advent? Will the church be decorated with anything other than candles and an Advent wreath prior to Christmas Eve? Will there be a Christmas tree in the sanctuary?

In seminary, professors of liturgy and sacramental theology act as the recruiting officers, trying to enlist as many green clergy recruits as they can. I half-heartedly signed up in 1984, but I surrendered and made my own private peace with carols before Christmas, trees in the sanctuary, and the whole business about ten minutes into my first Advent battle as a new pastor.

It's true that I'm weak and cowardly and have no taste for conflict, but that's not the only reason for my early defection from the ranks of the Advent purists. I think that there is actually a good reason to allow the anticipation of Christmas during Advent. This season is a time for double vision. We look towards the end of history and the fulfillment of God's promises, and we also look to the birth of Jesus as the inauguration of the kingdom of God on earth.

All of the Advent scriptures are oriented toward the coming of the Lord's Anointed who will fulfill all the promises of God and who will establish a reign of perfect justice and unending peace. We know that the fulfillment of these promises is still to come. Jesus was born and lived among us and yet perfect peace did not break out. Injustice, cruelty, hatred and oppression still afflict humankind. We look to the Second Advent – Christ's glorious return – to resolve all the tension between the promises of God's reign of peace and our present imperfect reality.

And yet we know that in Bethlehem, the birth of a baby to a peasant girl was the pivot point of history. We rejoice for God's decisive act in coming among us and dwelling with us, not in tents woven of cloth but in the tabernacle of flesh and blood. Because the dwelling place of God is with mortals, we not only hope for peace and justice at the end of history, but we know that God is working in us with every step we take toward forgiveness and mercy to transform the world into God's perfect reign of justice and peace.

Advent is a time of longing for the fulfillment of the petition that Jesus taught us to pray: that God's will might be done on earth as it is in heaven. Advent is also a time of preparation to celebrate the beginning of the fulfillment of that promise in the birth of Jesus. Because God in Christ has come to us, we know that God's promised Kingdom is dawning.

Throughout Advent we prepare to celebrate Emmanuel: God with us. We prepare to celebrate Jesus as Emmanuel. We also prepare our hearts to be the dwelling place of God so that we too might be Emmanuel: God's presence in us shaping our lives, our history, and our planet in conformity to God's gracious will.

See you in Church! Pastor Lynn

Christmas PAGEANT December 23

Happy Birthday
Jesus

Children of all ages are invited to join in a birthday party for Jesus on Sunday, December 23, following the Sunday School Christmas pageant. We will have a birthday cake and celebrate the birthday of Jesus in the Fellowship Hall. Please plan to attend the party and celebrate the real reason for the season.

*For to us a child is born, to us a son is given, and the government will be on his shoulders. And he will be called Wonderful Counselor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace.

Party Crashers

When was the last time you went to a wedding reception uninvited? How about the last time you crashed a birthday party? Anniversary? Graduation?

I didn't think so. Very few people would have the nerve to show up at a party uninvited. Sure, the buffet looks awfully good and the band makes us want to get out on the dance floor, but we stay outside the banquet room and make our way to a table in the main dining room. We know we don't belong in the banquet room at someone else's party. If we showed up we would be interlopers, imposing on the friends and family who do belong there.

Imagine you have never been to St. Matthew's church. Let's say you are interested in what's happening at our family celebration, that a part of you longs to be included. But still, you might be more than a little hesitant to come on in. You might feel like a party crasher.

You have family members, friends, and associates who have never been invited to join the party we celebrate each (Saturday and) Sunday when we are invited to feast on God's Word and eat at the Lord's Table. The Advent/Christmas season is a splendid opportunity to extend the invitation. Invite someone to come to church. Help someone to connect with the real message of Christmas that can't be found in the malls and at holiday cocktail parties.

Being led to rejoin the family of faith that is St. Matthew's UCC is a blessing. As the called pastor at First Congregational UCC In Niagara Falls, I was expected to become a member of the congregation in which I served. That was fifteen years ago. This church family has always been warm and welcoming when I was a visitor at worship or special events. We anticipate it will be "home" for our family once again.

Decorating for Christmas!

Everyone is welcome to help decorate the church for Christmas on Saturday, December 1, at 10:00am.

The Christmas tree is up and gift tags are on! This year, we have been asked to gift the children with a special bible, "The Jesus Storybook Bible: Every Story Whispers His Name" and we have already purchased 40 bibles. If you'd like to give one of these bibles to a child at Cornerstone, please take the Snoopy tag from the tree and place it with $6.30 per bible in the big box under the tree. (Cash will be accepted; checks should be written to St. Matthew's-note Cornerstone.)

There are also tags for PJs or slippers for adults or children. Cornerstone will not turn anything away, so if you have additional items you'd like to give, please make sure they are unwrapped and put under the tree by December 10. Contact Joann Ertel if you have any questions (684-6808).

Friends of Night People Outreach

CIA Christmas Caroling

Sunday, Dec. 9, meet at 6:30pm at Hamburg Presbyterian Church

Another fun-filled evening of singing, fellowship and refreshments! Everyone is invited to participate! We meet at Hamburg Presbyterian Church to get our assigned group home, gather our cookies & apple cider, and warm up our vocal chords; then groups of 10-15 people will go to their assigned location to sing and fellowship with the residents.

Anyone interested in attending, or have any questions, should contact Sue Rich to sign up to carol and/or to bake cookies (648-5785 or goat2rich@verizon.net).

Come share Christmas joy!

There are many behind-the-scenes volunteers at St. Matthew's called "Caregivers" who give of their time and talents to help friends in the congregation by making/delivering a meal; driving to a doctor's appointment; cleaning house/yard and other ways. The Caregiver Volunteer Form lists ways we support those in need.

If you'd like to volunteer to do any of the above, please fill out the form and give to LaDonna Painter (or put in mailbox #67).

Also, if you or someone you know could use help by receiving a meal or ride, etc., please contact LaDonna, Pastor Lynn or the church office.

150th Anniversary Luncheon

October 28, 2018

It all started with a meeting in February with the Anniversary Committee. There were a lot of meetings, calls to the caterer Mike Aurello, time to organize the pictures, The Sun article, the Vineyard write-up, the monthly Anniversary memory moments, Jay Rich and Perry Kaupa's memories, sending letters to former pastors to see if they would be able to make it to the luncheon, getting the pictures organized and labeled (Marilyn and I even enjoyed one evening with the music of the Folk band in the Fellowship Hall while we labeled the pictures—we were singing and doing some chair dancing that night!); and of course waiting for the football schedule to come out so we could pick a date that would be best for everyone attending without a lot of traffic. That is how it all came to be....

We sold 111 tickets and we had a full house enjoying a lovely dinner with Ken Haberman's floral centerpieces to brighten up the tables and the donations from Gateway printing of the tickets and napkins. Brenda Carver made the beautiful bookmark keepsakes and Michelle helped with the programs and getting the word out about the luncheon.

Beth Stormer, President of Church Council, was our Master of Ceremonies starting with the unveiling of our beautiful wall hangings by Gail Burdick and Gail Vara, and then Pam Kaznica's reflection of memories in her heartfelt poem she recited to us.

Thank you to Norm and the Choir for their special music, but we at St. Matthew's are use to our choir being special every Sunday. Thank you to Norm for his time writing the music for the special anthem.

Thank you to Andy Federmann, Bill Hamm, Donn Mergenhausen, and Dave Kaznica for their help with the water issues and clean-up. Thank you to Bob Velazquez for catching some memorable moments thru his camera lens. These pictures will be shared and enjoyed by everyone for years, adding to our history.

We enjoyed a nice program of former and guest pastors celebrating their memories with everyone and Rev. Lynn Morgan closing out the program with his memories and starting with his own memories with St. Matthew's way back when.

It was a very nice dinner for fellowship and celebration of St. Matthew's 150 years of sharing Christ's love.

Thank you to everyone that made the day an enjoyable time for everyone. And a special thank you to my committee.

Christmas Gift Idea

F.I.R.S.T. certificates are a great gift idea for your hairstylist, paper person, mailperson, neighbor, babysitter, family member or even keep one for yourself.

These $10 certificates are accepted at many of our local independent restaurants.

Purchase these for $10 each and use them like a $10 bill at participating local restaurants.

See Steve or Nancy Jankowski at church or call 826-0012.

Your special gift to this UCC offering provides direct financial assistance to individual retired UCC clergy. It helps remind these Veterans of the Cross that they have not been forgotten and the Church is grateful for their service. This special offering will be taken up on Sunday, December 23.

How the proceeds from the SHED benefited us!

During the last several months, our income from the St. Pauly shed donations made it possible for us to purchase 15 new padded arm chairs for the counting/meeting room.

This room now looks very business like and uniform. THANK YOU and our community for all your clothing donations that made this purchase possible.

You are welcome to stop in and see these very comfortable chairs!

Thanks again & God Bless,

Nancy Jankowski
